

The home of William Warren Jr and Sarah Robinson Warren 1903.

I have dated the picture above for the following reasons:

Sarah and William had five children;

Agnes is not included in this photo. She married Willis Newton in 1893 and was living in Vermont.

William died in 1917. He is shown seated in front with Sarah who died in 1924 after the home was destroyed by fire. So this picture was taken before 1917.

There are only two other males in the family, George William, the oldest male who is standing behind William who is seated and someone in the wagon.

Logic dictates the young man on the wagon is Robert Warren. He would have been at most 21. If so, then this photo was taken prior to 1904. He moved away after that time and did not return to Iroquois until 1957.

The other two girls in the family were Charlotte and Sarah. Charlotte is on the right based on her hair. It was always quite puffy. The other girl then, would have been Sarah.

Charlotte was unmarried at the time. She did not marry until 1916.

So who then is the other woman standing behind William. She is George William Warren's first wife Nellie Serviss. They were married in 1903. That is why they stand together as a couple in this picture.
